Terms of the consignment portal

Version of 01.11.2026

Translation for information. The German version applies.

1. Purpose. In the consignment portal of Kolb Antik GmbH (“Kolb Antik”), you can view your contracts, consignments, statements, settlements, documents and receipts. You can sign contracts, make declarations and set preferences there. Referring persons only see their own documents and the details of their referral fee, never the terms, settlements or payouts of consignors. These terms govern only the use of the portal.

2. Your contracts take precedence. Consignments, referrals and all other transactions are governed by your contracts with Kolb Antik. They take precedence over these terms. The documents themselves, such as contracts, settlements and invoices as PDFs, are authoritative. If a portal display differs from a document, for example a status, amount or date, the document applies. Please inform Kolb Antik of any such discrepancy.

3. Signing in. You sign in using a link that Kolb Antik sends to the email address on file. Protect access to that email address and do not share sign-in links. If you suspect that another person has access, inform Kolb Antik. Kolb Antik will then sign you out on all devices.

4. Declarations in the portal. Anything you sign or declare in the portal, such as a signature, a cancellation or the acceptance of an offer, is as binding as on paper or by email. Preferences, such as how you wish to be paid, are requests. What you agree with Kolb Antik is binding.

5. Availability. Kolb Antik aims to keep the portal available but cannot guarantee this at all times, for example during maintenance or outages. If a deadline applies to a declaration, you can always submit it through another channel named in your contract, such as email.

6. Liability. Kolb Antik is liable without limitation for intent and gross negligence and for harm to life, body or health. In cases of ordinary negligence, Kolb Antik is liable only for breaches of essential obligations, meaning obligations whose fulfillment enables use of the portal and on which you may rely, and only up to the foreseeable, typical loss. Liability under the German Product Liability Act remains unaffected.

7. Privacy. The privacy policy explains how Kolb Antik processes your data in the portal, including the measurement of its use.

8. New version. If Kolb Antik changes these terms, Kolb Antik will ask you to agree to the new version the next time you sign in. Without agreement, you cannot continue using the portal. Your contracts remain unaffected. You will then receive your documents by email or on paper.

9. Ending use. You may stop using the portal at any time. Kolb Antik may block access if it is misused or there is no longer a business relationship. On request, you will then receive your documents by email or on paper.
